Image citations for your poster
You will often not be given any information about a picture you find online to give proper attribution of its creator, when it was produced, or what it is called. However, you need to provide a citation to indicate the image is not of your own creation.

For this class, you will need to create a descriptive title for the image so it is clear which one you are referring to in your poster, and use the following format:

[descriptive title] Full web address where it is located (accessed Day Month Year).

A few examples:
